

f. Vaginal Discharge

MODULE 2

Causes

It is normal to have more vaginal discharge when you are pregnant. If this discharge is milky and fluid, there is no need to worry even if it is plentiful.

If the discharge irritates, causes a burning sensation, or has a bad smell, you may have an infection. In this case, consult your health care provider.

What can I do?

- Keep the area clean and dry.
- If the discharge is abundant, wear a pad.
- Do not use a vaginal douche.
