

a. Changes Occurring in Your Breasts

MODULE 4

Your breasts were getting ready to breastfeed even before you thought about being a mother. Milk glands start to grow during the teenage years.

During pregnancy, the breast, areola, and nipple get bigger. The nipple and the areola become darker. The alveoli and the ducts increase in number and grow in size.