

h. Breast Care

MODULE 4

There is no special care required for your breasts during pregnancy. Good daily hygiene is sufficient. The Montgomery tubercles (glands) situated under the areola are responsible to prepare your breasts for breastfeeding. To support your breasts, wear a bra that fits well; preferably without underwire.

